

Dear Parents,

You will find information on my spring and summer classes listed below. Please keep a copy of this email because I will not be mailing a Spring 2016 Newsletter/Schedule.

Many of you know that I broke my kneecap, had surgery, and am currently in outpatient physical therapy. Much good has come from this incident: I have had extra time to study the new SAT and to complete a book I have been writing for a few years. Also, my experience in physical therapy has reinforced in me the importance of having confidence in our ability in order to reach our potential. As a result, I realize more than ever the vital role my confidence-building approach plays in helping students reach their personal best on standardized tests!

If you have any questions about the programs listed below, or if you want to enroll students in any of my classes, just reply to this message. I will forward enrollment emails to my assistant Jess, who will contact you with the enrollment procedure.

Thank you!

Dr. Pace
